

June 3, 1935.

Dear William:

I have just written the Provident Trust Co. to send you a bond for $1500. You should receive it within a few days. It is to be sent to your home address in Baltimore. There is no use waiting any longer. I think it advisable to have the bond ready in time, without waiting till the last minute in the hope that an answer may be received from Palestine

I am glad to hear that there will be so many in residence at the School next year. As news of our heating-system spreads, we ought to get still more as time goes by.

I can't tell you how much I miss the School and the work in Palestine. I know how eager Ruth must be to be there again. I wish we had enough money so that you could find it possible to remain the Director of the School to the exclusion of everything else. No one can ever take your place.

Helen is finishing her first year of internship, and commences her second year immediately as "houseman" in internal medicine. She joins me in sending to you and Ruth and the children our best greetings, and wishes for a pleasant trip.

Will you drop me a card to let me know that the bond has been received, when you get it?

As ever, sincerely yours,

NB