in Baltimore and November 8 in Philadelphia
as the Charles Elliot Norton Lecturer.*

Dear Dr. Glueck:

I was delighted to learn from your letter to Professor Dinsmoor that you will be able to undertake some lectures this Fall for the Institute, even though it will not be to the full extent I wish we could persuade you to undertake.

The material that you outlined sounds intensely interesting and with your first-hand knowledge, both before the war and during these four years of semi-darkness archaeologically, The River Jordan should be a very great treat for the Societies fortunate enough to hear it.

Specifically, because of the shortness of the time, both in terms of our program and the limits you are obliged to set on your availability, I wonder if you can undertake to lecture at Philadelphia on Thursday, November 8; Richmond, on Tuesday, November 6; Baltimore, on Wednesday, November 7; with the possibility of a lecture at Hartford on Friday, November 9? The lecture that I am most anxious about is the Thursday, November 8, one, to which Philadelphia has committed me as a fixed date. Other suggested lectures could be shifted one way or another if you would prefer that.

Again, because of the shortness of the time, it would be most helpful if you could wire, at the expense of the Institute, immediate reply to this proposal.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

Meriwether Stuart

Meriwether Stuart,
General Secretary.
